Lincoln Head Brick Causes More Than Casual Interest

THE LINCOLN HEAD BRICK which was brought to The Daily Register office a number of days ago has caused more than casual interest.

After pointing out that the brick was found by children playing near Karbers Ridge in Hardin county and brought to Harrisburg by Kenneth Smith of the U. S. Forest Service, I asked for help in getting information about these bricks.

The response was great.

First I learned that Mabel Pickering, nurse at Lightner hospital, is a daughter of the man that made them. He was James Wheeler, Equality.

Then Mart Justice, who now lives in Gaskins City, came in and told about the bricks being made at the McIntire brick kilns in Equality about 50 years ago and that Thad McIntire was still living at Equality.

Next, Thad McIntire and his nephew, James B. Reed, came to Harrisburg and brought the mold from which the bricks were made at the brick kilns operated by his father, William, and him at Equality. The bricks were made by Mr. Wheeler at the kilns about 1903 and 1904, he stated. The Daily Register yesterday carried a full story about the making of the bricks.

Yesterday Timotheus received a letter from New London, Wisconsin, from Fred Davis, a former Harrisburg man. Said Mr. Davis:

"Dear Tim: Just got the Register of March 10, which is always two days late when I get it. Hope I am not too late to give you what information I can about the Lincoln brick.

"Yes, I put the brick in the concrete sidewalk (on Dayton street, Harrisburg) in 1947. I was told the brick was made in Equality by a man named Wheeler, the father of Mrs. Mabel Pickering, now a nurse at the Lightner hospital. She had a sidewalk made of these bricks and she gave me one of them; so I think Mrs. Pickering could give you the history of the Lincoln bricks.

"Drive out to 400 East Dayton street and see the Lincoln brick in the sidewalk next door to my friend and neighbor, Noble Mitchell.

And that's not all.

M. C. Shell of Harrisburg came in yesterday afternoon seeking the exact location of where the children found the brick in Hardin county.

He learned that the children of Homer Peyton, Forest Service road foreman, found it a mile south of Karbers Ridge.

Then Mr. Shell said he believed he was the one who hauled the bricks to Hardin county, and I believe he was, too.

Mr. Shell said it was fifty years ago that he drove a team of horses to the McIntire brick yards at Equality and got a wagon load of bricks for his uncle, John Gintert, who lived one mile south of Karbers Ridge.

Nearly all the load was plain brick, he said, but he bought a few of the Lincoln head bricks, which Mr. Gintert used in his house. At least some were put in the construction of a chimney.

Mr. Shell lived in that vicinity until 1910, when he went to Rosiclare to live. He resided at Rosiclare until 1921 when he moved to Harrisburg. He has lived here since.

Mrs. Clarence Pemberton, 59, Former Resident Of Equality, Dies

Mrs. Margaret "Maggie" Pemberton, 59, wife of Clarence Pemberton, former resident of Equality but more recently of St. Louis, Mo., died Wednesday morning in Old Faith hospital in St. Louis.

The body has been returned to Equality where it will remain at the A. K. Moore funeral home until funeral time which is Friday at 2 p. m. at the Equality Methodist church. Rev. E. W. Fox will officiate, and burial will be in the Cottage Grove cemetery.

She was a niece of Ben Morris of near Equality. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Sina Barnes, Equality, Mrs. Elmer Pemberton, Dixon, and two brothers, Clyde and James Morris, both of Dixon.

Trade Program Faces Senate Fight, Ike Told

Saltonstall Asks
Bill Be Trimmed
From 3 to 2 Years

By United Press
President Eisenhower got new notice today that his foreign trade program faces a tough fight in the Senate.

A Senate administration leader, Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.), proposed that the program be scaled down from three to two years. Saltonstall is Senate Republican whip. It is his job to muster party votes for the administration's legislative program.

The President asked Congress at the start of the legislative year to extend the reciprocal trade program three years and give him additional tariff cutting authority.

The House has approved his bill, which is now being studied by the Senate Finance Committee.

Saltonstall made his two-year proposal in a letter to Committee Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.). He said shortening the period would give Congress an earlier chance to determine whether the program was hurting domestic industry.

Other congressional news:
Pay: Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and the military service chiefs urged the Senate to approve a House-approved pay boost of 754 million dollars a year for some two million persons in the armed forces. Wilson said the pay increase is needed to stem the high turnover in military personnel. He said that unless this is done the quality of the services cannot be maintained.

Peress: Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) asked for an official ruling on whether President Eisenhower will permit administration officials to testify about a secret meeting held Jan. 21, 1954. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has charged that a "conspiracy" was hatched at the meeting to stop his investigation of former Army Maj. Irving Peress, Defense Department general counsel. Wilber M. Brucker said at today's Peress hearing that the meeting dealt with McCarthy's Ft. Monmouth, N. J., inquiry and not with the Peress case.

Stock market: A banker and a union leader told Senate investigators the stock market boom is not completely healthy. But they differed on reasons.

Banker Ferdinand Eberstadt of New York said that some "undesirable practices and tendencies" of unpromising stocks being offered for sale, "hot tips" which led to "feverish stock buying" of a speculative nature and "rides" given certain unspecified stocks.

Ask Legislature To Boost State Police Force

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Legislature has been asked to boost the size of the state police force by 20 per cent.

A bill to add 100 men to the 500-man force was introduced in the House Wednesday. It has the backing of the Motor Vehicle Laws Commission.

Gov. William G. Stratton called for a bigger police force in his message to the 1955 Legislature. There has been opposition from some quarters, however.

Other new bills introduced in the Legislature Wednesday would: Require vehicle headlights to be bright enough so the driver can see at least 200 feet ahead.

Boost maximum pay of probation officers from $3,000 to $8,500.

Require that license plates be illuminated or reflectorized.

Require first aid certificates of ambulance drivers and attendants.

Hike pay of deputy assessors in townships with more than 14,000 population from $12 a day to $18.

Great commissions to study sewage system problems, and determine whether vehicle license plates should be sold on a county level.

Relax penalties for driving an overloaded truck.

Provide that part of the state's take from racing parimutuels be used to aid the blind.

Increase minimum pay of full-time teachers from the present $1,200-$2,600 range to $3,000.

Permit a county tax of up to .3 cent per $100 to cover the cost of making property tax assessments.

14 Persons Die In Fires; 10 Are Children

By United Press
At least 14 persons died in home fires Wednesday night and early today.

Ten of the victims were children. Five died at Nashville, Tenn. A fire swept through the five-room home of Robert F. Moore, 27, and his wife Barbara, 21, killing them, their sons Wayne, 4, and Michael, 2, and a guest, Helen Romance, 15. The wife of Dr. Ben T. Galbraith and their three children were killed in a fire which ravaged the second floor and part of the first floor of the Galbraith's home in McAlester, Okla. The children were aged 3 to 7. The state fire marshal's office was investigating.

Mrs. Bernard Brockway, 37, and her children James, 15, Donald, 11, and Blaine, 7, died when a fire believed started by a defective kerosene heater set fire to their home at Bridgeport, N. Y. Brockway, trying to rescue the children, was burned critically.

County Board Adjourns Until After Elections

The Saline County Board of Supervisors today adjourned sine die until after the April 5 township elections, after which a call meeting will be held to organize the board.

Attending his last meeting as a board member was S. E. "Si" Pemberton of Eldorado, who did not choose to run again after 12 years on the board.

A large part of today's session was taken up regarding the proposed purchase of a photostat machine, which would be used by the offices of the county to record instruments. Chief work would be in the office of the county clerk.

The board voted to table action on the purchase until the next meeting.

Reports were made by Raymond Field of Carrier Mills and W. O. Douglas of Harrisburg.

Field, Howard Patterson and Vernon Smith made a trip to Mt. Vernon to a meeting where problems of counties were discussed with legislators, and he reported on the items taken up.

Douglas, chairman of the purchasing committee, said that his group authorized purchase of three new book cabinets for the office of Circuit Clerk Quentin Bowers because they were badly needed.

He said the floors in the sheriff's office are in bad shape and part of the cost to get the job done. Douglas also reported that $70,000 had been added to the insurance total on the court house and contents, bringing the amount now carried to approximately $150,000.

Upon motion of Herman McFarlin, chairman of the Finance Committee, $12,000 was transferred from the fee earned account to the general account.

Reports by County Mine Inspector J. H. Pittman and Annabelle Melton, Child Welfare worker, were accepted.

Workers Vote to End Strike at Sangamo Plant

Accept Contract
At Mass Meeting
Held at Marion

MARION, Ill. — The Sangamo Electric Co. will call back some of its production workers Friday to its capacitor plant near here which was strikebound for 31 days.

The strike ended at 11 a. m. today when a new contract was signed with Lodge 1986 of the AFL International Association of Machinists. Union members voted 515 to 143 Wednesday night to accept the two-year contract and return to work.

H. L. Kunz, general manager of the capacitor plant, said maintenance and janitorial employees started cleaning up the plant this morning. He said the first production workers will be called back Friday but it will be some time before a substantial number will be back on the job.

Kunz said the new contract contains some new benefits for the workers but it does not contain a pay increase which the union asked and which was the main cause of the strike.

Sangamo officials had announced the termination of plant operations and the employment of 1,200 workers when last Friday's contract offer was turned down.

The firm said it could not afford the union's demand for a 10-cent hourly wage increase.

The plant, located in Ordell west of here, employed about 1,200 workers when it was idled Feb. 14. It laid off nearly all its salaried office force during the strike.

115,000 in St. Patrick's Parade

NEW YORK — The Irish, some 115,000 strong, marched up Fifth Avenue's Kelly green stripe today in the nation's grandest St. Patrick's Day parade.

Millions more crowded the avenue to view New York's traditional tribute to St. Patrick, the saint said to have driven snakes from the verdant fields of Ireland.

The grand parade filed for hour after hour past two official viewing stands. From the steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Francis Cardinal Spellman, Bishop Fulton J. Sheen and other clergymen watched.

And at 64th St., Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Gov. Averell Harriman and hundreds of state and city officials saluted the marchers.

Around the country the nation made similar observance of March 17.

President Eisenhower kept on his desk a bowl of shamrocks flown to him Wednesday from Waterford County, Ireland. The shamrocks were presented to Mr. Eisenhower by Joseph D. Brennan, counselor of the Irish embassy.

The Senate made its feelings towards the Irish known Wednesday. A group of senators headed by Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.) introduced a resolution expressing the feeling of the Senate that Ireland should be unified.

Rabies Vaccination Clinic Saturday

The lower level of the Harrisburg city hall will be the location of a rabies vaccination clinic from 1 to 5 p. m. Saturday sponsored by the Harrisburg Humane society.

The society pointed out that as a service to dog owners it keeps a record of the tag numbers, and the names and addresses of the owners, so that identification can be readily made in case the animal becomes lost, injured or killed.

Humorist Ed Harding to Address Dinner Club Here Thursday, March 24

Ed Harding, Tarheel philosopher and "Doctor of Laughter," will be the guest speaker at the next regular meeting of the Southern Illinois Dinner club which will be held Thursday evening, March 24, at 6:30 at the Kurto Country club.

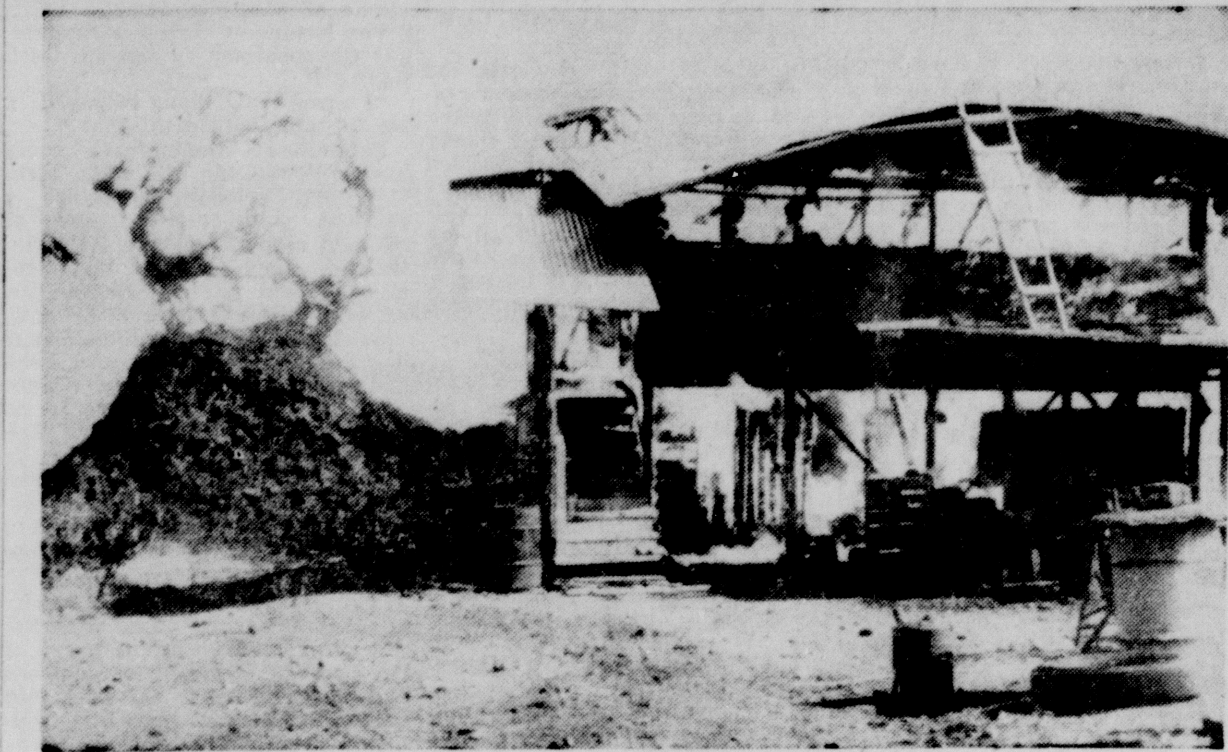

Mr. Harding is considered a leading citizen at Washington, North Carolina, and in over 200 other cities stretching from coast to coast the folks, who are members of local clubs and who have heard this genial Tarheeler speak, consider him the finest humorist. He possesses a rare wit, a keen insight into the drolleries and vagaries of human life, and in a delightfully charming manner he makes the most of this knowledge.

There are undertones of seriousness to what he has to say which will make his speech much more than a humorous lecture.

Advance reservations should be made with Rees Turner, Harrisburg, secretary of the Southern Illinois Dinner club.

National Director Visits Local Jaycee Meeting

At last night's regular Jaycee meeting, the club was honored by a visit from Jaycee national director Joe Smith, Mattoon, who was making his official visit to the club.

Smith, a Mattoon lawyer, is one of four national directors from Illinois, and has 31 Jaycee locals in his district. He spoke briefly to the club on state and national Jaycee affairs, and urged the local group to participate in state-sponsored activities, such as the Voice of Democracy contest, the teen-age Road-e-o, junior golf and tennis, and other activities under the Jaycee SAL (Starting America's Leaders) program.

Jaycee president Millard Lynch reminded the members of the forthcoming district 10 meeting, to be held at the Marion junior high school one week from tomorrow, Friday, March 25, at 7:30 p. m., at which time Bill Mathieson, a director of Junior Chamber International, will speak.

Local Jaycees were also reminded of the charter night for the newly-organized Carterville club, scheduled for Tuesday, March 29, where state president Bob Cook, Springfield, will speak.

Matusow Gets 3-Year Sentence For Contempt

EL PASO, Tex. (UP)—Ex-Communist Harvey Matusow, sentenced to three years in prison for criminal contempt of court, spent Wednesday night in the county jail and may have to spend about four more there while his attorney tries to raise $10,000 appeal bond.

For Matusow, 28-year-old government witness, author, poet and "stringless" yo-yo inventor, jail was a new experience.

U. S. District Judge R. E. Thomson cited Matusow for contempt on the ground he had "schemed to defeat justice" and "deliberately shown contempt for this court." He gave Matusow a hearing Wednesday, then found him guilty and sentenced him to three years.

Matusow's attorney, Joe Calamia, appealed. The judge set bond at $10,000 and sent Matusow to jail immediately when he revealed he had only $1.78 in his pocket.

Matusow, whose trouble began when he recanted testimony he had given in several anti-Communist trials and admitted he lied in the trial of labor leader Clinton Jenkins in El Paso in January, 1954, was confident he could raise the $10,000 appeal bond.

Body of Sfc. Neal Cantrell Arrives; Funeral Saturday

The body of Sfc. Neal Phillip Cantrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Redge Cantrell, arrived today at 9 a. m. on the New York Central in Eldorado and was met by the James N. Williams Post No. 882, American Legion of Galatia. The body was then escorted by the Post to the home of the parents in Galatia.

Sfc. Cantrell was captured by the Communists during the Korean conflict Feb. 12, 1951, and was reported dead June 7, 1951.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. at Union church south of Thompsonville. Rev. Ocie McClarren and Rev. Barney Seales, both of Thompsonville, will officiate, and burial will be in the church cemetery. The American Legion Post will serve as pallbearers.

The Courtney funeral home is in charge.

Knowland Says Yalta Documents May Help U. S. Avoid Conferences

WASHINGTON — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said today that publication of the Yalta documents may help the United States avoid future conferences like the Crimea meeting.

But while the Californian commended the State Department for publication of the long-secret papers, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said they had been "censored" and there is "much missing."

Publication of the Yalta conference documents climaxed years of Republican clamor for full details of the three-power politics involved in the 1945 wartime bargaining.

Knowland said that the nation may learn enough from the papers to avoid future conferences that will dispose of the land or freedom of people without their consent.

He said he did not know whether the secrecy about Yalta affected U. S. foreign policy, but Congress certainly needed the information in making policy determinations.

McCarthy, who has called on President Eisenhower to repudiate the Yalta agreements, said he did not believe the documents told the "whole story" and "perhaps we never will have it."

Sen. George H. Bender (R-Ohio) said the documents "spoke a lot more eloquently than any Republican orator as to what happened" at Yalta. He said there appeared "nothing new" in the documents, but he was glad the "public is going to have the reports about them confirmed."

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who said only Tuesday that publication might be delayed several months, turned the documents loose 24 hours later—after a strong nudge from GOP congressional leaders.

Many Republicans have long charged that the late President Roosevelt agreed to a sell-out of China, Poland and Eastern Europe to Communism at the 1945 meeting with British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Soviet Premier Josef Stalin.

The defense replied, in effect, that Russia would have taken what she took if there had never been a Yalta conference.

During 1953 and 1954, the Republican-controlled Congress voted additional funds to the State Department to speed up the lagging publication of official foreign policy records.

Mrs. Ellis Clary Dies at Eldorado

Mrs. Ella Griffin Clary, 69, who lived at 1410 Grove street in Eldorado, died at 4:30 a. m. today in the Ferrell hospital.

She is survived by her husband, Ellis; three daughters, Mrs. Neal Mabrey, Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Kenneth Shaver, St. Clair Shores, Mich., and Mrs. Gus Phillip, Chicago; two sisters, Mrs. Roy Beaver and Mrs. Froma Ringo, both of Indianapolis, Ind.; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The body will lie in state at the Martin funeral home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

The body will lie in state at the Martin funeral home where the funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. Rev. C. C. Lowe will officiate and burial will be in Wolf Creek cemetery.

County Spelling Contest March 19

The Saline County grade school spelling contest will be held Saturday, March 19, at the Horace Mann school. Students who will participate in the county contest were selected in contests held in the various grade schools.

Controversy Will Go On, Dulles Believes

Papers Reveal
Conference Was Good Deal for Russia

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today he expects the controversy over records of the Yalta conference which changed world history "to go on through the ages."

The Yalta papers made public Wednesday night proved the Crimea conference in 1945 to be a good deal for Communist Russia. At the conference the late President Roosevelt dealt the Reds into war against Japan.

The Russian armies struck in the East only five days before Japan accepted unconditional surrender.

A political and diplomatic storm was blowing up around the long-suppressed records of the conference, and Dulles was touched by it, turning snappish on some questions about the documents.

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, only survivor of the Yalta Big Three conference, reacted as the State Department anticipated—with annoyance.

Says There Are Mistakes
Churchill told Parliament that extracts of the American version of the Yalta meeting "disclose some serious mistakes." He said that on general grounds his government had told the United States it was "undesirable" that the records be published so soon.

At the White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower had not seen the papers before their public release by the State Department. He said the release was entirely a State Department matter and the President was not consulted in advance.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), who wants the Yalta agreements repudiated, said the documents had been "censored" by the State Department. He said there is "much missing" and he thought the whole story might never be told.

Dulles' remarks on the papers were made to newsmen at National Airport as he prepared to leave on a good-will visit to Canada.

Shocks and Surprises
Like the Yalta record itself, the maneuverings which led up to the publication Wednesday night were confusing and open to various interpretations. Also published were the records of the conference at Malta where the late President Roosevelt met British Prime Minister Winston Churchill before proceeding to Yalta as Generalissimo Josef Stalin's guest.

There are shocks and some surprises for those at home and abroad in the Yalta documents.

Whatever the Germans may feel about Mr. Roosevelt's "blood-thirsty" attitude toward them and the Yalta plan to dismember their nation, the West German government at least kept quiet.

West German officials said any comment might just "fan the flames of bad feeling" just as rearmament for the Bonn government is nearing approval in France and Germany.

Churchill had opposed release of the documents at this time. British officialdom scarcely concealed

Township Assessors, Deputies to Meet at Court House Tuesday

Township assessors of Saline county and their deputies have been called to a meeting Tuesday morning in the court room of the court house by Maynard Cannon, county treasurer who is supervisor of assessments.

This meeting is being called just prior to the start of work by the assessors, who are scheduled to start making their real estate and personal property tax assessments April 1.

"This is a very important meeting; so please plan to attend with your deputies," Mr. Cannon said in his announcement to the assessors.

The WASHINGTON
MERRY-GO-ROUND
By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Ike Will Farm A "Little" At Gettysburg. But Not Too Much; He Prefers Black Angus
Over Herefords; New AECommissioner Once Defended Alleged Member of Canadian Spy Ring.

WASHINGTON. — "Country living at Gettysburg and elsewhere dominated the conversation when farmer Ike Eisenhower lunched with farmer - Congressman Lester Johnson of Wisconsin and other freshman congressmen the other day.

Johnson wondered if Ike's farm near Gettysburg, Pa., was making money, explaining that he himself had tried to operate a farm while living in the city, but the arrangement was "not too profitable," and he finally sold out to his tenant.

Eisenhower replied that he would be satisfied with a small profit from his Gettysburg acres after leaving the White House, "because I like living in the country and don't plan to work too hard at farming."

"My farm is mostly pastureland for grazing beef cattle," he said.
"That part of Pennsylvania has been farmed so hard in the past that there has been a lot of erosion. As a result, I don't think it would be worth while for me to try to raise any crops on a big scale."

His limited farming experience, explained the President, had sharpened his interest in soil conservation. After reading a book on the subject, he said, he was all the more convinced that the basic solution was controlling water at the source instead of building big dams in flooded areas.

"Getting back to my cattle," remarked the President, "I do not have a big herd, but they are all Black Angus."

"You should have settled on White-faced Herefords," suggested GOP Congressman E. Keith Thomson of Wyoming.

"I almost did," disclosed the President. "Hereford breeders offered to donate me a herd picked from different states, but I finally turned down the offer. I decided on Black Angus because they don't require as much care as dairy cattle. Then, too, practically all my neighbors in Pennsylvania have Black Angus, and it is a lot easier for me to exchange sires with them."

THE PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY PRESENT
The President got a chuckle out of a story told by Johnson, an outspoken foe of Senator McCarthy.

"I was elected on October 13, 1953," recalled the Democratic congressman from Wisconsin. "The day was your birthday and my Republican opponent played this up.
He put ads in the newspapers urging the voters to send him to Washington as a birthday present for Ike." When the votes were counted, however, you got a Democratic present—me."

Ike grinned but was noncommital when two of his Democratic guests, freshmen Congressmen
James Quigley of Pennsylvania and Herbert Zelenko of New York, both insisted that he was their "constituent."

"It stands to reason that I am your congressman, Mr. President," contended Quigley. "Your farm is in my district."

"Wait a minute," spoke up Zelenko, one-time champion wrestler at Columbia. "Columbia university is in my district, and that's the precinct where you voted the last time. Until you change your voting address, you are still my constituent."

Eisenhower laughed louder than anybody when Zelenko added as an afterthought:

"You know, this is one of the few times I have been invited to lunch by a constituent when he didn't ask me for a favor."

LESS MCCARTHYISM
A closed-door session of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy revealed that the latest Eisenower appointee to the Atomic Energy Commission appeared to have the same kind of background as Dr.
Robert Oppenheimer. However, Admiral Strauss doesn't plan to persecute him as he did Oppenheimer. Neither do the Republicans. Strauss is not anxious to antagonize the scientists any more.

The new appointee is Dr. John Von Neumann, renowned Princeton scientist; and it developed in closed-door hearings that he had come to the defense of Israel Halperin when the latter was tried as a member of the Soviet espionage ring in Canada.

Unlike Oppenheimer, however,
Von Neumann was not found "guilty" association.

The Princeton scientist admitted to the congressional committee that during the Canada spy trials in 1946 he joined others in sending a telegram to the prime minister of Canada urging a "fair trial" for Halperin, a Canadian university professor. The telegram also expressed confidence in the "innocence" of Halperin, later acquitted when he stood "mute" and the court could not produce evidence that he gave any information to the spy ring.

Dr. Von Neumann further admitted to the committee:

"He (Halperin) told me in 1940 that he was a Marxist or essentially that he was a Marxist. It developed later that he must have been at an earlier time a member of the party, but this was unknown at the time."

Halperin had been a student of Von Neumann's at Princeton's Institute of Advanced Study.

Von Neumann almost paraphrased
Oppenheimer when he testified:

"I agree that I have betrayed a considerable lack of caution."

Committee Democrats could have followed the McCarthy technique and given the professor a political going-over because of his past association with Halperin.
Instead, they felt that Von Neumann should not be pilloried for an innocent association of the past.

On the other hand, Republicans like Senators Hickenlooper of Iowa and Bricker of Ohio, who were against Oppenheimer, were in no mood to embarrass President Eisenhower and AEC Boss Strauss by opposing a Republican appointee who had been employed as a consultant for International Business Machines, Standard Oil Development Co. and others.

Note—Inside fact is that Admiral Strauss was so upset over the row he kicked up by his purge of Dr. Oppenheimer that he went out and hired one of the first top scientists he could find, Von Neumann.

Dear Friends:

For over eleven years it has been my privilege to serve many of you as your International Harvester dealer in Harrisburg. During all this time your patronage and friendship, your courtesy and kindness were extremely gratifying to me.

Now that I have terminated my interests with International Harvester, I want to take this opportunity to thank all of you from the bottom of my heart for the many courtesies you have shown me, and for allowing me to serve you these past eleven years. I also want to urge my many friends who are International Harvester users to support and patronize the Scherer Equipment Company, who will soon open a new dealership in Eldorado.
I am sure they will continue to give you the same good service and cooperation that I have always tried to maintain.

Should any of you wish to contact me, I will maintain my office at my home, 1305 S. Webster, Harrisburg. My phone number is 1326-R.

Again, let me say you are all wonderful people . . . thanks for everything!

Sincerely,

V. V. Brown

To the Voters of Cottage Township

I want to thank you one and all for your cooperation for the past four years I have served as your Highway Commissioner. I am running for re-election and if you feel that I have done a good job and have handled the township affairs fairly and impartially I solicit your support and I promise to continue to render the same kind of service if re-elected.

SINCERELY,

Dave Leverett, Highway Commissioner

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. McKinley Baptist Euzelian Class Has Potluck Supper

The Euzelian Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met Tuesday evening in the basement of the church for a potluck supper served by the losers of the class to the winners of a contest.

Mrs. George Rumsey is teacher.

Present were Mrs. Elbert Norris, Mrs. Harlan Seats, Mrs. Guy Pankey, Mrs. James Azar, Mrs. Jesse Gibbons, Mrs. Hugh Martin, Mrs. Charles Grounds, Mrs. J. B. Gibbons, Mrs. Ernestine Brinkley, Mrs. Ruth Childress, Mrs. Karl Kuppert, Mrs. Bob Mitchell, Mrs. Tom Jenkins, Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. Jewel Davidson, Mrs. Roy Chamberlain, Mrs. Kendall McDonald, Mrs. Herschel Fritts, Mrs. James Rice, Mrs. Chester Estes, Mrs. Garland Fulkerson, Mrs. Cecil Fulkerson, Mike Mitchell, Jimmy Kuppert, and guests, Rev. and Mrs. J. D. McCarty and sons, Philip Dean and Billy Joe, and Miss Peggy Jo Fulkerson.

First Methodist Busy Woman's Bible Class Meets

The Busy Woman's Bible class of the First Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Anna Williams Tuesday evening with 29 members present.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Clyde Harding, and with prayer by Mrs. A. I. Bair. The opening song "Rescue the Perishing" was led by Mrs. Nim Penrod with Mrs. Imogene Hunt at the piano.

A reading was given by Mrs. Mary Jennings, the subject "Pray for Potatoes."

Mrs. Ada Reese was a visitor. The committee composed of Mrs. Jennie Durham, chairman, Mrs. Edith Sheeley, Mrs. Anna McDonald, Mrs. Anna Williams, Mrs. Jacob Syers, Mrs. Bob Moore and Mary Jennings served angel food cake and coffee.

Bill Ching Foo Lew from Taipei, Formosa, spent the week end with Jack Shelby at Dorris Heights. Bill is a Chinese Nationalist refugee who has just completed his work for a Master's degree in education administration at Southern Illinois university as an exchange student. He is married and his wife and eight months old baby boy are still in Taipei. He is to leave for San Francisco, Calif., next week where he hopes his family may join him. He then plans to work for a doctor's degree at Harvard. During his stay here he spoke to three church audiences contrasting conditions and customs in America with those in his native country.

Mrs. Vera Benson Hostess To Garden Heights Unit

Mrs. Vera Benson was hostess to 11 members of the Garden Heights Home Bureau unit Tuesday afternoon. The members answered roll call by telling an experience with a new product.

The minor topic "Program Planning" was given by Mrs. Willie Cummins, and Mrs. Joe Harris and Mrs. C. R. Hossler gave the major topic "Serving Portions for Health," which was educational and interesting.

Mrs. Harris was also in charge of the recreational period during which prizes were won by Mrs. Earl Noel and Mrs. Johny Denny.

Three Birthdays Celebrated at Dinner

A group of women originally from McKinley Avenue Baptist church who have formed a custom of meeting to observe the birthdays of those within the group met Tuesday for an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Herbert Clark, South Granger street, to celebrate the Birthdays of Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Frank Rodgers and Mrs. Ollie Fulkerson. At noon a bountiful dinner was enjoyed. The rest of the day was spent in visiting and piecing quilt blocks for Mrs. Clark.

Others present not mentioned above were Miss Elsa Tyndall, Mesdames Jane Gaskins, Margaret Harding, Roxie Pankey, Mildred Evans, R. O. Cletcher, Nora Whiteside, Lulu Mallady, Noah Raley, Amy Reynolds, Hazel Smith, Nancy Fowler, Lilly Chitty, Della Mathes, Pearl Hancock, Mattie Rodgers, Jane Gasaway, Della McDonald, Emory Randolph and Mary Agin.

Mrs. Coy C. Brown left Wednesday by train from Carbondale for Miami Springs, Fla., having been called there by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Homer D. Vineyard, who resides at 611 Oriole Drive.

Calendar Of Meetings

The W.C.T.U. will meet at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the First Christian church in Harrisburg. Everybody is invited and should take table service and a covered dish for the noon meal.

The Pythian Sisters will meet in the Labor Temple Friday at 7:30 p. m. Ruby Walker, M.E.C.

Open Drive in Shawneetown for Factory Building

Organization of a Shawneetown Development association was launched this week at a citizens' meeting in the Gallatin county courthouse, as effort is being made to provide additional factory space for the Shawnee Cabinets, Inc.

The new group has applied for a charter as a non-profit corporation for the purpose of promoting factories, erecting buildings for such and to lease or sell same. Officials of Shawnee Cabinets, Inc., revealed several days ago that contracts had been made with a reliable Chicago firm for the manufacture of 300 tables per day with additional production later. In order to fulfill the contract and continue present production of other lines, plant operators foresee the need of additional floor space immediately.

Those attending the meeting signified they would subscribe approximately one-fourth of the amount of $40,000 being sought to underwrite a new factory building project. It was estimated only a fourth of the business men and citizens were present and therefore hope was held for the success of such an undertaking.

Named directors of the new group were Joe E. Wright, James J. Galt, the Rev. R. L. Westervelt, A. H. Gill, William F. Scherrer, Roy G. Shook and Thomas P. Scherrer.

The new building would be erected on land directly east of the present Shawnee Cabinets structure and would contain 20,000 square feet of floor space. James York and Einar Dyhrkopp are owners of the Shawneetown firm.

George I. king of England, born in Germany, could not speak the language of the country he ruled.

Experts Claim Confidence in Stocks Regained

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street experts said today that confidence in the stock market is being slowly restored.

They predicted reduced activity and a narrower price movement in the near future. But they said there may be another test of recent lows.

Wednesday the market rose again but its rise was reduced before closing time by selling from recent buyers who took stock on the decline for a quick turn.

Brokers say the list can go up several more points before running into real resistance because of good business news—high production, good earnings, and anticipation of excellent first quarter reports to come next month.

Now that the market has weathered one of its biggest setbacks the market men are taking stock to see who bought in the last two sessions and who sold last week and Monday.

One group was immediately eliminated from the selling side—the institutions. Also little or no selling came from mutual funds, pension funds or individual trusts.

Much of the unloading came from the general public and it included a few wealthy individuals with sizable long-term capital gains. Speculators were squeezed and probably bled.

Buying on the decline came from bargain hunters and in-and-outers eager to scalp a quick profit.

As of today the market has recovered in two sessions about 21 per cent of its losses of the previous five days of decline.

Benefit Tea Sunday For Methodist Youth Choir Robes

To complete a fund with which robes for the Methodist Youth choir will be bought, a benefit tea will be held Sunday, March 20, from 2 to 6 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Turner Sr., 300 West Poplar street, to which everyone is invited.

Mrs. Harold Godard, one of the sponsors, has an ad appearing elsewhere in today's Register about this event, to which those needing transportation will be called for and delivered back to their homes by calling the Turner residence.

Limping Goose

By Frank Gruber

COPYRIGHT 1954 BY FRANK GRUBER. DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: When Johnny Fletcher and Sam Cragg collected a long-due bill on a cheap fur coat from Alice Cummings, they got involved in a murder case. Jess Carmichael III was found slain in her apartment. Alice gave Johnny a bank, shaped like a goose, which contained some old coins, but later she demanded the bank back. Meanwhile, Johnny has been hired by James Sutton, cousin of the murder victim, to find another cousin, Lester Smithson, who disappeared 12 years ago. Then Sutton decides to drop the case.

XVI

"Smithson," Johnny exclaimed. "What could he do to put himself in solid with old man Carmichael? He could learn the grocery business from the ground up."

"This is Lester Smithson you're talking about?"

"Who else? A sharp lad. He wanted some of those grocery stores, so he went about it the only way a guy in his position can go about it. He got a job in a grocery store—at the bottom!"

"Fletcher," said Sutton, shaking his head in admiration, "that's the most fantastic story I've ever heard. There's only one thing wrong with it. Lester disappeared a matter of some 12 years ago."

"So?"

"You think he's still, what did you say? weighing out sugar and coffee?"

"Maybe he's worked his way up to the meat counter."

Jess Carmichael stepped out of the bedroom. "Fletcher, I underestimated you last night."

Johnny smiled pleasantly. "Most people do."

"You've imagination," Carmichael turned to Sutton. "What's this deal you made with him to find Lester?"

Sutton shrugged. "It was just one of those things. Spur of the moment, Uncle Jess. I should have minded my own business. Forget it, please."

"No," said Carmichael. "I've missed Lester." He paused. "He's my nephew, the same as you are."

Pain crossed his features. "Now that Jess is gone, you and Lester are the only family I have. I—I know that Jess and Lester were never very friendly. I know, too, that it was probably Jess's fault, but now that he's dead I don't seem to remember those things. The memory of Lester these last few years isn't so strong. But I remember the boy. He stopped and swallowed hard. Then he became brisk again. "Fletcher, hold that vivid imagination of yours in check for a moment and tell me, honestly—do you think you can find Lester?"

"Yes, Mr. Carmichael. I can. That is, I can find him if anyone can."

Carmichael nodded. "I'm going to let you try. Here. He reached into his breast pocket and drew out a wallet. He skinned out five bills. "Here's $500. There'll be a thousand more when you find Lester Smithson. All right?"

Johnny took the bills and looked sharply at Sutton. The latter shrugged. "Thanks, Mr. Carmichael. It's a deal. There's just one question I want to ask you. Exactly when and where did you last see Lester?"

Pain again flitted across the grocery magnate's face. He looked at Sutton. "Perhaps, you'd better tell him, James."

"If you wish, Uncle Jess. It was at the Harver Club. We were all having lunch there and—well, I guess we'd all had one drink more than we should have. My cousin Jess and Lester—they had words and Jess threw a cup of black coffee in Lester's face. I'm afraid the coffee was rather hot. Lester walked out and that's the last time any of us saw him."

Returning to the Forty-Fifth Street Hotel, Johnny entered Room 821 and found it empty. Puzzled, he rode down to the lobby. Eddie Miller came forward.

"What happened, Mr. Fletcher?" he asked.

"Sam Cragg got out."

"Yes, that's what I was asking about. He came tearing down here about 10 minutes ago, said he'd just got a call that you'd busted your leg."

"No!" cried Johnny. "Who called him?"

"He didn't say. Just that he'd got word that you'd been in an accident."

"Did he go to a hospital?"

"Not that I know of. But I saw him getting into a cab outside."

"He didn't have any money to pay for a cab."

"Maybe he forgot that."

A Sky-Top cab stood at the curb a few yards from the hotel. Johnny strode up to him. "How long've you been waiting here?"

"A half hour, more or less."

"About 15 minutes ago," Johnny went on, "a man came dashing out of the hotel."

"Sure," said the cabbie, scowling. "I got beat out of a fare. Some guy's double-parked here—I

Stratton Runs Into Opposition On Two Key Bills

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The administration is bumping into strong opposition to two key bills before the Illinois House.

The House Elections Committee Wednesday voted against passage of a bill to allow the sick and disabled the right to vote absentee.

And a proposal to abolish the State Aeronautics Department drew heavy fire in a hearing before the House Public Utilities Committee.

Both measures were called for by Gov. William G. Stratton in his message to the 1955 Legislature. The absentee vote bill is one he tried in vain to get passed two years ago.

Opposition to the absentee ballot plan was based largely on grounds it would open the way for vote fraud. Winnetka Republican Bernice T. Van der Vries was prominent among the bill's foes.

Action on the bill to abolish the aeronautics department, and substituted for it a division in the public works department, was postponed for three weeks after a stormy session.

A leading foe was Rep. Franklin U. Stransky, Savanna Republican who was Stratton's House majority leader in the 1953 session. Stransky charged the state administration was not "air-minded."

"It might be road-minded, it might be toll road-minded, but it's not air-minded," Stransky said.

Thomas Booth, president of the Illinois Aircraft Operators Assn., said his group feels the administration, "if it has been advised at all, has been ill-advised."

M. D. Walston, ex-president of Booth's organization, said the aviation industry had tried two years to find out why Stratton wanted to abolish the department, but "we haven't found out yet."

Some ball bearings are so small that 200 of them will fit into a thimble.

don't think much of it, but then this guy comes out of the hotel and the double-parking guy scoots out in front of me and grabs the fare right under my nose."

"What kind of a cab was it?"

The cab driver shrugged. "I don't know the hackie. He's driving a beat-up old jalopy. . . yeah, a Lucky Clover cab. There ain't many of those around."

A setup," said Johnny. "I don't suppose you got his number?"

"Now, he beat it out of here before I could even tell him what I thought of him, stealing a fare out from under me. Hey—come to think of it, there was a guy already in the cab. I mean, in back."

Yalta Papers Cause Diplomatic Storm

their feelings the United States had committed a major blunder.

The papers becloud the time and place when Stalin first agreed to enter the war against Japan. Republican spokesmen long have insisted that Mr. Roosevelt sold out China to Communism when he traded the Soviet Union into the war in the East—even though he knew that the United States would have the A-bomb by Aug. 1. But Democrats have contended that Mr. Roosevelt was acting on urgent advice of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff to obtain speedy Russian entry. The dispute goes on.

France Dealt Out

Public opinion in France may react to the agreement of Mr. Roosevelt and Stalin that France should have no part in post-war administration of occupied Germany—although France might, perhaps, have a zone of her own as a "kindness." Churchill demanded that France resume her place in post-war Europe. He said he had to think of the time when the Americans went home (in "two years," FDR told him) and Britain might need France again as a defense against Germany.

The documents cannot fail to whip up again debate whether FDR was justified in making, at the expense of China, political and territorial concessions to persuade the Soviet Union to join the war against Japan.

They show that Mr. Roosevelt thought breaking Germany into five or seven different states would be "a good idea."

Didn't Inform Chiang

He was deeply concerned about Poland at the Yalta conference. The President told Churchill and Stalin that the Polish went big in the United States and he wanted at least "a gesture" to take back to the 6 million Americans of Polish extraction. But Stalin and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov finally beat down the British-American plan to have the Big Three ambassadors observe the post-war Polish elections to insure a free and honest ballot. Mr. Roosevelt backed down on that. The British protested to the last. Stalin also won on his demands for a slice of Eastern Poland.

Mr. Roosevelt told Stalin he had not discussed the concession matters with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, adding that "one of the difficulties involved in speaking to the Chinese was that anything said to them was known to the whole world in 24 hours." Stalin agreed and told the President he did not think the time had come to talk to the Chinese about the matters being discussed at Yalta.

Russia Makes Rules

Top revelation of the Yalta papers was the report of Averell Harriman dated Oct. 10, 1944, that he had obtained full agreement from Stalin for Russia to join all-out in the war against Japan. That report didn't give Stalin's price for making war on Japan. The price

Rushing Receives Honor Awards for Insurance Sales

R. D. Rushing of Harrisburg, representative for the Hardware Mutual Casualty company and Hardware Dealers Mutual Fire Insurance company, is being honored for sales accomplishments during 1954. The honors are being conferred at a 2-day conference for the companies' field sales representatives in Springfield, Ill.

In addition to the honor awards, discussion topics include new developments in the insurance field, including lower costs and the new package policies.

This is one of a series of similar meetings now being conducted by Hardware Mutuals in their various districts nationwide. The companies deal in auto, home and business insurance.

Cicero gave the title of "father of history" to Herodotus, Greek historian, who lived about 400 B. C.

came later—in a Dec. 5 report from Harriman, then U. S. ambassador to the Soviet Union.

The Yalta conferees met in that Crimean village Feb. 4-11, 1945. On Feb. 8 Stalin put his demands for concessions to Mr. Roosevelt. The British were not present. Two days later Molotov gave Harriman a detailed, written outline of the Russian price for entering the war against Japan, as follows:

1. Preserve the status quo in outer Mongolia where Communism had a good hold.

2. Restore to Russia southern Sakhalin and adjacent islands taken by Japan in the Russo-Japanese War.

3. The Russians to have "possession" of Port Arthur and Dairen.

4. Railroad rights through Manchuria without disturbing Chinese sovereignty.

5. Cession of the Kurile Islands to Soviet Russia.

Shawneetown Trips Rich, 61-56, in Sweet 16 Tilt

SHAWNEETOWN'S INDIANS IN ACTION AT THE STATE TOURNAMENT WEDNESDAY—It's hard to tell just what Bobby Spottsville, bent over in foreground, was doing at the time this picture was taken, but it is typical of his play that he's right in the middle of things. Ronnie Joyner holds the ball high as he is in control of the play. Other Shawneetown players are Garrison Newsom, 31, Jack Nolen, 35, and Alfred Gunzel, partially hidden by Spottsville. Rich players in view are Lloyd Rose, 95, and Jim Denman, 89. Shawneetown defeated the high-ly-regarded Rich Township high school team in the second game of Wednesday's session of the state tourney, 61-56. Shawneetown will meet Princeton Friday at 1:45 p. m.

Sweet Sixteen Snapshots of

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (U.P.)—Snapshots from the "Sweet 16" high school basketball scene:

Galesburg led the eight clubs which played Wednesday in shooting percentages, hitting 517 of its shots in its 77-66 victory over Paris, also the day's highest-scoring contest. Shooting percentages of other teams in order were Shawneetown 396, Elgin 383, Moline 378, Princeton 353, Paris 351, Rich 263, and Georgetown a frigid 147.

Rich and Galesburg each missed 10 free throws. Elgin and Princeton each missed nine. Shawneetown failed on seven, Moline and Georgetown five each, while Paris only four.

Princeton and Moline each scored 24 points on free throws in their game where more than 40 per cent of the scoring was from free tosses. Moline and Paris committed the most fouls—19 each. The highest scoring quarter was Galesburg's 26 point fourth stanza.

Moline Coach Jack Foley is pessimistic about his chances next year. Eight of his 10 member squad are graduating, with only juniors Kenny Anderson, a 6-4 center, and Mike Heitman back. Chicago Marshall also has eight men graduating. Most fortunate of all in this department as usual, is Pinckneyville, where Merrill "Duster" Thomas has eight of this year's 10 coming back. The number of men returning in 1956 from other tourney squads are Alton, Paris, Lincoln and Rich Township, seven each; Shawneetown and Peoria Spalding, six each; Georgetown, Galesburg, West Rockford, five each; Princeton, Decatur and Quincy, four; and Elgin, three.

Shawneetown was a crowd favorite in its uphill battle against Rich, and their cheerleaders drew the most crowd comment, too. The Shawneetown cheerleaders were "six little Indian maids," each decked out in band-and-feather headdress, fringed leather skirt and jacket, beads and moccasins.

The junior "junior-set" was represented both on the field and in the cheering sections. Rich Coach Greg Sloan's 8-year-old son, toggled out in full uniform and warmup regalia, took between halves practice with Rich.

Cindy Southern, 7, Paris, was easily the cutest—and close to the most graceful—cheerleader of the day as she whirled through all the routines with her older high school sisters.

Rich Township, upset as Shawneetown caught and then passed them, came out second-best in the sportsmanship department, too. Rich players several times shouldered and otherwise showed aggressiveness after routine body contact plays and never once proffered the handshake these exchanges always drew from Shawneetown players. Then Larry Scott of Rich drew the first technical foul of the tourney when he bounced a ball high in the air following a fourth quarter penalty call against Rich.

KANSAS CITY BEATS TIGERS FOR FIRST WIN

TAMPA, Fla. (U.P.)—The Kansas City Athletics, stimulated by the first victory over won by that city as an American league team, sought victory No. 2 today in an exhibition game against the Chicago White Sox.

After suffering four defeats and a minor-league tie, the Athletics at last gave their new hometown fans something to cheer about Wednesday when they blasted 11 hits to beat the Detroit Tigers, 8-3, at Lakeland.

Five A's' walloped homers — Jim Finigan, Bill Renna, Joe DeMaestri, Bill Stewart, and Don Bollweg. The White Sox got excellent three hit pitching from Bob Chakales and Sandy Consuegra to beat the New York Yankees, 3-1, at St. Petersburg. The Sox got all their runs in the first two innings off rookie John Kucks.

TURLEY HURLS FOUR SCORELESS INNINGS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (U.P.)—Yankee Manager Casey Stengel isn't nearly as worried now about Bullet Bob Turley.

Stengel was mighty unhappy when Turley, speedballing right-hander obtained from Baltimore during the winter, was hammered for five runs in one inning in his first exhibition appearance. But Casey relaxed Wednesday as Turley pitched four innings of shutout ball, allowing four hits, in a 3-1 loss to the Chicago White Sox.

The Cardinals, who have been hitting hard in spring training, will test the Yankee pitching staff further today. Wednesday the Redbirds hammered 17 hits, including a homer and two singles by rookie Ken Boyer, but lost to Milwaukee, 11-10.

FELLER DELIGHTED WITH SPRING DEBUT

TUCSON, Ariz. (U.P.)—Veteran hurler Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians, delighted with an excellent spring debut, said today he intends to keep pitching "as long as I can get anybody out."

The 36-year-old right hander hurled three shutout innings and allowed only two singles Wednesday as the Indians' "B" squad defeated the New York Giants "B" team, 6-4.

Today the Indians clash with the Chicago Cubs, who suffered a 5-3 defeat Wednesday by the Giants' first team.

MONTE IRVIN STARS AT BAT

PHOENIX, Ariz. (U.P.)—Monte Irvin hit only 262 last season, but a good showing in Wednesday's 5-3 exhibition win over the Chicago Cubs made the New York Giants hopeful today that the 34-year-old outfielder will make a batting comeback.

Irvin drove in four runs in the victory, including the three deciding tallies in the seventh inning with a bases-loaded single.

BRAVES WIN BUT HURLERS GIVE UP 17 HITS

SARASOTA, Fla. (U.P.)—The Milwaukee Braves and St. Louis Cardinals — two clubs whose pitchers seem to be in over-generous moods — were scheduled to meet here today in an exhibition game.

Braves' pitchers Roberto Vargas, Bill Roland, Dave Jolly, Bob Trowbridge, and Bob Giggie gave up a total of 17 hits Wednesday, but the Braves pulled out an 11-10 victory.

PHILLIES SCORE 17-12 WIN OVER RED SOX

LAKELAND, Fla. (U.P.)—For two chaps supposed to be fielders and not hitters, infielders Lou Ortiz and Ted Kazanski of the Philadelphia Phillies, are lacing the ball in spring training.

Artiz tallied three hits, drove in two runs and scored another in Wednesday's 17-12 win over the Red Sox to raise his training record to eight hits in 19 trips for a .474 mark. Kazanski also had three hits to boost his total to four in eight trips for a .500 mark.

Today the Phillies visit the Detroit Tigers, who suffered their third straight defeat and fifth in seven games Wednesday, 8-3, to the Kansas City Athletics. Harvey Kuenn hit a Detroit homer.

Porterfield allowed no runs and five singles in six innings of pitching, drove in two runs, and scored two Wednesday in a 7-4 win at Jacksonville. Busby hit a 375-foot homer and made a brilliant catch of a drive by Gus Bell.

The same two teams meet here again today.

Giardello Seeks New Trial After Conviction

PHILADELPHIA (U.P.)—An amazed Joey Giardello, convicted of beating a service station attendant, fought for a new trial today to remove the blight on his jeopardized middleweight boxing career.

The jury deliberated more than five hours to find the top contender for Carl (Bobo) Olson's crown guilty Wednesday night of assaulting Howard Short, 31, and on three counts of riot at the South Philadelphia station Oct. 28.

Michael Von Moschizker, Giardello's attorney, immediately asked that sentencing be deferred for four days to give him time to file an appeal for a new trial.

The verdict, if it stands, could hurt or possibly end Giardello's career since, fight observers said, most states have agreed not to license boxers convicted of a crime.

Giardello was placed in custody of his attorney until this morning when Judge Edward P. Little was to set bail.

Short claimed Giardello struck him with a crutch after the boxer and a group of companions stopped at the station for gasoline. Giardello, who had used the crutch since injuring his knee in an automobile accident, contended he never left the car and had called to the others to stop beating Short.

Friday afternoon, starting at 1:45, Shawneetown will face Princeton, upset winner over Moline in Wednesday's opening battle. Princeton, featuring one of the most talked about players in the state, Joe Ruklick, entered the state meet with a record of 30 wins and one loss.

Great Performance By Newsom. Ruklick is a 6-8, 202 pound center, who is particularly effective on under-the-basket play.

Shawneetown, Princeton, Elgin and Galesburg Win Sweet 16 Openers

Moline, Rich, Georgetown, Paris Are Eliminated

WEST ROCKFORD WINS, 58-54. West Rockford won the opening game of the second day of Sweet 16 tournament play this afternoon, edging Decatur, 58-54, in a closely fought contest.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (U.P.)—The Irish and "Sweet Sixteen" winners Princeton, Shawneetown, Elgin and Galesburg enjoyed a happy St. Patrick's Day today.

But the lights were out and the spirits were low for Moline, Rich Township, Georgetown and Paris, Wednesday's losers in the Illinois High School Basketball Tournament.

St. Patrick had his own entry as the second day of the prep game championships got underway. Peoria Spalding's Irish took the court in the second game of first round lower-bracket play against the Lincoln Railplitters.

The other lower bracket games today were Decatur, Rockford West, two skyscraper entries with Rockford the tourney favorite; Quincy versus Chicago Marshall, bidding to upset the Sweet Sixteen jinx against Chicago teams; and patient Pinckneyville against Alton, back in the finals after a 36-year absence.

Wednesday's upper bracket opening round gave the crowd—a capacity 7,000 at each game—more than they came for.

Princeton dealt out the first surprise, overtaking the Moline Maroons, favored in the top bracket, to squeeze out a 60-58 triumph.

Then, little Shawneetown, the Ohio river school with a 190 pupil enrollment, won the crowd's hearts with another uphill victory, 61-56 over Rich Township.

Elgin became the first "favorite" to win, and established itself as the team to beat in the top half of the tourney, by humbling out-manned Georgetown, 63-40.

The Galesburg Silver Streaks, their 17-11 record the poorest in the tourney along with Lincoln's, outshot and outran Ernie Evedland's fast-break boys from Paris, 77-66. The Streaks had a scorching 517 shooting percentage.

Game by game, here's the play and the players that made the difference in Wednesday's action:

Princeton-Moline

This game proved 6-foot 8-inch Princeton center Joe (Hooks) Ruklick is a weapon to be feared even when he's not scoring. Moline put three men on Ruklick from the start and this strategy, said Maroon Coach Jack Foley, was "perfect" in the first half when Ruklick got one field goal and five points.

But in the second half, with 6-foot 4-inch Kenny Anderson, 6-foot-3 Whitey Verstraete and 6-foot-3 George Seaberg still sewing up Ruklick, Princeton "got smart," as Foley put it. The unguarded Tiger "outriders," Richard Hult, Forrest Finn and Lewis Flinn, began playing for wide open close-in jump and push shots. This pulled the Tigers within two points as the fourth quarter opened.

When Moline defenders moved out in the final stanza, Ruklick used his freedom to sink three fielders as the Tigers took a 52-50 lead and held on for the last three minutes. Verstraete's rebound tied it 58-58 with 35 seconds left, but Princeton gained victory as reserve Jerry Zurliene potted two free throws with 19 seconds left.

A 5-foot 10-inch guard named Garrison Newsom was all kinds of a player for Shawneetown, leading the Indians with 22 points, setting it on to the final gun.

Shawneetown couldn't handle the taller Park Forest team in the first quarter as Rich, averaging three inches taller to a man, controlled both boards. Down 16-9 at the quarter, with six of their points from Newsom, Shawneetown's deliberate offense began to pay off and they gained back a point but trailed 31-25 at halftime.

Indians Remain in Battle for State Title; Play Princeton Friday

By BILL MELTON, Daily Register Staff Writer

Those amazing Shawneetown Indians did it again!

Wednesday afternoon, in state tournament play, Shawneetown knocked off Rich Township high school, 61-56, to remain in the thick of the battle for state championship honors.

As has been the case the past week or so, Shawneetown was placed in the role of underdog by the experts, but played a steady, dependable game and came out the victors. The Indians are Illinois' only undefeated team for the 1954-55 season.

Friday afternoon, starting at 1:45, Shawneetown will face Princeton, upset winner over Moline in Wednesday's opening battle. Princeton, featuring one of the most talked about players in the state, Joe Ruklick, entered the state meet with a record of 30 wins and one loss.

Great Performance By Newsom. Ruklick is a 6-8, 202 pound center, who is particularly effective on under-the-basket play.

Shawneetown again played a fine team game, but it was a great performance by Garrison Newsom, 5-10 senior guard, that carried the Indians to victory.

Newsom paced his team with 22 points, played a fine floor game and was effective on defense. His all-round play was probably the top individual performance of the day and he was easily the most popular player with the fans.

In collecting his 22 points, Newsom hit for ten field goals in 29 attempts and connected on two of three free tosses.

Eight Indians entered the fray, with six getting into the scoring column. Nolen had 15 points, Spottsville 12, Drone 4, Crane 2, Gunzel 2 and Newsom 3.

During the game Shawneetown shot 53 times from the floor and hit 21 times for a percentage of 39.6. Rich also hit 21 field goals, but tried 77 times, giving the losers a .273 average.

Shawneetown's cool, deliberate type of game caught the fancy of the huge crowd and a majority of the rooters were whooping it up for the Indians.

Rich ran up a 4-0 score in the opening seconds, with Nolen getting Shawneetown's first two points, when he hit on a ten-foot jump shot. Rich maintained its advantage throughout the quarter and was on top 16-9 at the first intermission. The Indians began to move in the second period and whittled a point off the advantage, to trail 31-25 at half time.

A 17-40 third period, with the Indians out hustling their taller opponents, gave Shawneetown a 42-41 lead after three periods.

Nolen's 10-foot jump shot as the fourth quarter started gave the Galesburg county boys a 44-41 lead. The Indians extended the advantage as play continued. However, the fans had their doubts when Spottsville fouled out with 2:09 yet to be played and Shawneetown on top 57-50.

Players Take Game in Stride

In the closing minute and a half Rich put on a press that was good for six points and moved the upstate team to a 56-59 score. Two free throws by Crane moved the Indians out to a five point, 61-56, score, the final count.

When the game was over the Shawneetown fans poured out the floor to give the team a victor's greeting. There was much shouting, back slapping, hand shaking and everyone had a grin from "ear to ear". The only unconcerned persons around were the ball players. They were taking it in stride.

Shawneetown's cheer leaders were all dressed up in brand new uniforms appropriate for the team nicknames of Indians. The six girls — Peggy Sheets, Diane Winterberger, June Fields, Christine Clevenger, Kay Drone and Nina Pierson — were dressed as Indian maidens, complete with feathers in their hair.

Dykes Wins Decision From Kid Gavilan

MIAMI, Fla. (U.P.)—Elongated Bobby Dykes of Miami, bubbling with confidence after practically ruining Kid Gavilan's comeback campaign, challenged today for a shot at the middleweight crown.

"I believe I can whip Bobo Olson for the title," declared the stringy six-footer who Wednesday night won an upset unanimous 10-round decision over ex-welterweight champion Gavilan before 4,457 under the stars in Miami Stadium.

ROOKIE BIDS FOR BERTH WITH DODGERS

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (U.P.)—Rookie Ed Roebuck, who compiled an 18-14 record at Montreal last season, is throwing blanks in his bid to earn a berth on the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The 23-year-old right-hander gave up three runs, but all were unearned, in Wednesday's 18-8 victory over the Baltimore Orioles at Vero Beach and now has allowed no earned runs in a total of eight innings pitched this spring.

Carrier Mills Music Boosters Hold Meeting

The Carrier Mills Community high school music boosters met recently in the high school music room.

Selections by ensemble entries for the district music contest held in Mt. Vernon March 12 supplied the entertainment for this regular meeting of the club.

Comprising the saxophone quartet which played "Marriage of Figaro" were Terry Gullede, Wanda Holloway, Carol Dunaway and Larry Edwards. Drum quartet members are Carolyn Absher, Patricia Milligan, Phyllis Yocum and Janice Harrawood. Their number was "Submarine Express." This was followed by the clarinet quartet playing "Taran-telle." In the quartet were Marilyn Lanton, Carolyn Felty, Shirley Pyle and Sue Miller.

Concluding the program was Monteverdi's "Suite for Brass Instruments" presented by the brass quintet whose members are Charles Rann, Georgia Henson, Marlene Backfisch, John Yocum and Peggy Tolbert.

Oather Dunaway presided at the business session preceding the program. Mrs. William Henson, club treasurer, reported a balance on hand of $212. Mrs. Nancy Steely, music director, told of plans for an indoor circus April 4 in a benefit for the music department and there performances.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting to members and the students by Mrs. William Gullede, Mrs. Oather Dunaway and Mrs. Harry Yocum Sr.

The next meeting will be held April 14.

Mrs. Ethel Mathias Addresses Lincoln PTA on Mental Health

On Tuesday evening an appreciative audience at the Lincoln P. T. A. meeting heard Mrs. Ethel Mathias, local school nurse, speak on mental health.

The subject was introduced by showing two pictures of the same person before and after acquiring mental health. Little was said regarding the influencing factors of poor mental health. However, definite steps were presented whereby a person could help themselves to develop a happy and sound mental attitude. Namely, cultivation of a spirit of fair play, looking for mistakes and trying to correct them before trying to force others to do it, overcoming self-pity and the habit of exaggerating difficulties, recognizing temperaments, and attempting to be positive by doing our best.

The subject was summarized by Mrs. Mathias asking three questions: How do you feel about yourself, how do you feel about others, and how do you meet the problems and demands of every day living.

The other part of the program consisted of a group of songs by children in the intermediate grades. Miss Leona Turner was the accompanist.

Plans were made for the birthday social to be given on March 25. Preceding the social hour, several enjoyable piano selections were played by Mrs. Gill Montgomery.

Optimistic Sales Picture Given To IH Shareholders

CHICAGO (AP) — An optimistic sales picture—running 5 per cent above a year ago—was painted for shareholders today at the annual meeting of International Harvester Co.

IH President John L. McCaffrey told stockholders that sales for the first four months of 1955 fiscal year increased $14,597,000 over a year ago despite a reduction of $30,295,000, or 56 per cent, in sales of defense products.

"We estimate that our February total net sales were approximately $105,000,000 as compared with net sales in 1954 for the same month of about $92,000,000, or an increase of approximately 14 per cent," he said.

"For the first four months of this 1955 fiscal year, our domestic sales, sales to dealers and users in the United States, show an increase of approximately 20 per cent over the same period of the 1954 fiscal year."

Endicott Displays New Buick Four-Door Hardtop

Buick's first four-door Riviera "hardtop," the automobile style sensation which made a tremendous hit with thousands of spectators at the 1955 Motorama Shows throughout the country, is now on display at Tom Endicott Buick, on U. S. 45, south of the Rt. 13 intersection.

The new "hardtop" model is Buick's first extension of its famous Riviera styling to four-door cars. And like the Riviera "hardtop" coupe, which Buick pioneered six years ago, the four-door model eliminates the pillars between the front and rear doors. While providing greater visibility for passengers in the rear seats, Buick's four-door "hardtop" combines the sweep and airiness of a convertible with the comfort and roominess of a sedan, and features the sloping beltline and the full rear wheel exposure of Riviera styling.

The four-door Riviera will be offered in the Century and Special series.

Boy Scouts Receive First Aid Instruction:

FIRST AID INSTRUCTORS are Mrs. Thera Schureman, Mrs. Niamia Parish, Miss Mary Ann McCue of Equality, Mrs. Geneva Altire and Mrs. Fernie S. Patton (shown left to right). This is the second year in which Mrs. Altire has been in charge of first aid instruction in the Boy Scout First Aid Program. Scout officials in the second row are Harold Hansen, post adviser, Eldon Vinyard, member of Troop 23 committee, and James Arensman, Institutional representative for the Egyptian Council. LEGISLATIVE REPORT To
51st Senatorial District
By Representative
GORDON E. KERR

The General Assembly in its third month has moved slowly. Most of the major legislation is yet to be introduced. However the Personnel commission has made its report and legislation to carry it out is expected soon. This legislation will change completely the method of employing, dismissing and compensating state employees. This legislation report has the backing of leaders in both parties.

A director of personnel will be appointed by the governor. The director will be responsible for employing, examining, wage scale, training and promotions. A new Civil Service commission will be created, its duties will be mostly judicial and policing. By the passage of this legislation, the state will save a large amount of money now being spent by the Civil Service commission. It will cut out most of the red tape that we now have in the present Civil Service commission. It will certainly be a great step forward in good government.

House Bill No. 236, introduced by this writer, if passed, will permit the county to meet its part of Federal matching funds. It will allow the counties to build many more all weather roads. The bill provides that counties may levy .06 for a period of five years. The funds can only be used for Federal Aid secondary roads.

The bill that would require all cars to install safety belts went before the Motor Vehicle committee. There it ran into trouble and was sent to a subcommittee. There it is expected to die.

Still no major school revenue legislation. On March 9, 34 bond-decline legislators introduced a bill, creating a use tax. The chief purpose of the bill is to protect the most important source of revenue, the sales tax, and to distribute more equal the tax burden. The passage of the bill will require Illinois citizens making purchases in other states liable for a 2% tax, to be paid to the State of Illinois. If properly enforced it should produce 30 million dollars each year. This bill will help solve the need for school revenue, without raising the sales tax.

House Bill No. 286 has been introduced that will permit the sale of auto license plates at the county clerk's office. It also provides that no car owner may purchase a license unless he has evidence that he has paid his personal tax on that car. The county clerk would retain $1.00 for his fee. Although the bill has good qualities it will meet strong opposition.

There will be a number of resolutions calling for amendments to the State Constitution. The law provides that only three can be offered at each session of the General Assembly. Some that will be, or has been offered is as follows: Judicial Reform, a new Revenue Article, exempt food from sales tax, and permit 18 year olds to vote. After reapportionment most members of the legislature will be exceptionally careful in voting for amendments.

Reapportionment is still the big question in Springfield. For our district which will be the 59th, it now looks like Williamson county will be added and Hamilton county dropped. Hardin, Galatia and Pualaski will also be added to our present district. Attempts will be made to keep Hamilton in our district. Our new district will not have less than eight counties. The new Senatorial district will probably consist of Saline, Massac, Johnson, Pope and Hardin.

Griffith Stadium, Washington, D. C., has the smallest seating capacity of any major league baseball stadium, maybe only 27,523.

The Bronze Star is given for heroic or meritorious achievement in direct combat or in support of combat on the ground.

Only 4192 automobiles were made in 1900, less than one day's output for a major manufacturer today.

Social and Personal Items

Mother Thompson Unit of Wesleyan Service Guild Meets

The Mother Thompson unit of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Jewel Dean Barter Tuesday, March 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Oldham Observe 44th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Oldham, 1315 South Vine, celebrated their 44th wedding anniversary March 15 with a dinner at their home.

Two of their children were present, Mrs. Jean Reed and Edward Oldham. Other children are Gordon Oldham, Springfield, Jesse Oldham, Riverside, Calif., and Helen Watson and Josephine Oze, both in Detroit, Mich. They also have 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Miss Annebelle Swaney Hostess to Vota Vita Class

The Vota Vita Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church held its monthly meeting in the home of Miss Annebelle Swaney.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Miss Norma Cannon, and following a short business meeting, conducted by the president, Miss Raenelle Lavender, the devotion was given by Miss Cannon.

Mrs. Roma Caldwell, class teacher, closed the meeting with a prayer.

The social hour was under the direction of Miss Swaney and refreshments were served to the following: Misses Norma Cannon, Raenelle Lavender, Jean Followell, Mrs. Roma Caldwell, and Miss Annebelle Swaney, the hostess.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Caldwell.

Methodist Lenore Circle Holds Regular Meeting

Mrs. Herman Seifried was hostess to the Lenore circle of the First Methodist church Monday evening.

The Year Book of Prayer was given by Miss Lelle Anderson, and the lesson for the evening was presented by Miss Julia Williamson. The lesson topic was "Jesus Confirms God's Steadfast Anchor of Hope," taken from Hebrews.

Delicious refreshments were served to 15 members and two guests, Miss Susie Seifried and Mrs. Carolyn Adams.

The next meeting will be held at the church with Miss Ada Cable and Miss Lelle Anderson as hostesses.
